The Farmer Family

THE FARMER FAMILY

(Copied from the "Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine", February, 1922)

FARMER

"The family of Farmer, name spelled various ways, is derived from one of the companions of William the Conqueror, and was at an early period established in the Lordship of Somerton, Oxfordshire, England. Resided at Easton-Neston about 1480.

Anne, daughter of Richard Farmer, Esq., married before 1545 William Lucy, and their son, Sir Thomas Lucy, of Charlecote, Knighted by Queen Elizabeth 1565, was the magistrate so famous in the time of Shakespeare.

John, eldest son of Richard Farmer, was made Knight of the Carpet at Westminster 1553, the day of the coronation of Queen Mary, in Her Majesty's presence, under Cloth of State, by Earl of Arundel, Commissioner for the occasion. He married Maud, daughter of Sir Nicholas, Knight.

His eldest son George, knighted 1586, had the honor of entertaining King James 1st and his Queen at Easton-Neston 1603, when His Majesty was pleased to confer the honor of knighthood upon his eldest son, Sir Hatton Fermor.

Sir George married Mary, daughter of Thomas Curzon. He was the personal friend of Sir Philip Sydney and was one of the few invited to walk in his funeral procession with the family.

Lord Nelson served under George Farmer of the Royal Navy, who commanded His Majesty's ship QUEBEC, off Ushant, 1777, and engaged a French frigate of greatly superior force.

1685, Major Jasper and Jasper Farmer, Jr., direct descendants of George Farmer, with their respective families, came to America and settled in Pennsylvania."

(See "Virginia Gazette"—State and Congressional Libraries)

"Lodowik Farmer came from England and settled in the Colony of Virginia in 1740. He renounced his inherited title of "Lord Farmer". He brought with him wealth which he invested in land and negroes. Lodowik had saw-mills erected on his estates and engaged in merchandizing. He was a man of prominence and influence. He was in the Virginia Assembly Nov. 7th, 1769, and in May, 1776."

(See "The Robertson, Purcell and Related Families".

By Laura Purcell Robertson)

"Lodowik Farmer's will, a lengthy document, was recorded in Lunenburg County, Va., in 1783. This will records that he gave to each child, as they married, a "horse and saddle", hogs, cows, two negroes, chairs, knives and forks, and a large body of land."

He was a Vestry man in Lunenburg Parish as recorded in "Old Churches and Parishes", by Bishop Meade.

Lodowik Farmer had twelve children, namely:

1. Benjamin—married Elizabeth Dew.
2. Elijah.
3. James.
4. Jeremiah.

WILLIAM FARMER

(Copied from "A History of Fayette County, Illinois," published by Brink McDonough & Company, Philadelphia, 1878.)

(This book is in possession of Mrs. Virginia Farmer Schulte of Vandalia, Ill.)

"Among the first settlers of 'Pope Township' were William Farmer—who settled in the eastern part of the Township—and Henry and Milton Jackson.

William Farmer, born in Christian County, Kentucky, March 3, 1808, was the son of Absalom and Ailcy (Heyatt) Farmer. They were natives of North Carolina and emigrated to Kentucky shortly after their marriage.

Absalom Farmer was one of those adventurous frontiersmen, always in the vanguard of the victorious army of civilization, consequently his son, William, enjoyed none of the advantages of early education.

In 1829 William Farmer removed to Illinois, then a comparative wilderness. He had married on the 28th of September, 1828, Miss Lucy Ann Jackson (sister of Henry and Milton Jackson), by whom he had nine children—the first, Urias, being the first child born in Pope Township. The first house built in the Township was that of William Farmer. The first marriage in the Township was that of a sister of William Farmer to Joseph Gilmore.

William Farmer was married three times and reared three sets of children. He was a public spirited man and held public office continually. He was a soldier in the Black Hawk War. He was a great student of the Bible and carried a license from the Presiding elder to 'exhort' in the Methodist Church. He also made a study of medicine and was considered a very good physician. At different times he was Constable, Justice of the Peace, and at the time of his death, June 18, 1888, he had been Township Treasurer for twenty years."

EXHORTER'S LICENSE.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

This Certifies that Mr Palmer....., having been examined by us concerning his gifts, grace, and usefulness, we judge that he is a suitable person to officiate as an

William M. Farmer, Former Illinois High Court Justice, Dies—Vandalia Jurist, Who Retired July 1, Succumbs to Heart Disease.

By Associated Press.

Vandalia, Ill., August 28.—Former Justice William M. Farmer of the Second Judicial District of Illinois, died at his home here about noon today. Death came suddenly from an attack of angina pectoris, a heart disease, the attending physician said.

Justice Farmer was 78 years old. He suffered a severe paralytic stroke in April, 1926, but resumed his work in the Supreme Court in December despite a paralyzed right side.

He was born on a farm in Fayette County, June 5, 1853, and lived the greater part of his life in Vandalia, the old capital of Illinois. Justice Farmer was a graduate of McKendree College and Union Law College, and was elected to the Supreme Court in 1906 after serving as a jurist in the Circuit Court, the Appellate Court, both Houses of the State Assembly, and as State's Attorney of Fayette County.

He was married in 1875 to Virginia Henninger, who, with two daughters, Mrs. Charles Schulte, Vandalia, and Mrs. B. F. Young, Yonkers, N. Y., survive.

Statement by Judge Norman L. Jones:

"Judge Farmer was ripe in experience as a Circuit Judge and as a Justice of the Appellate Court before he was elected to the Supreme Court. He took with him to that Court a great wealth of learning and knowledge. His keen sense of the rights of persons, coupled with his profound knowledge of the law, destined him to take a place in the front rank of American jurists.

Among judges and lawyers everywhere Judge Farmer's opinions are accorded the highest respect. He leaves a record behind him unexcelled in wisdom and accuracy by that of any other man who has graced the great court of Illinois.

His character and integrity were above reproach. His kindly disposition made him loved by all who came in contact with him. His passing away is a loss to the state and to his legion of friends, as well as to his family, of whom he was so fond."

The Cox Family

COX

(Copied from the "Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine" October, 1920—page 582)

"Among the names of the French followers of William the Conqueror is found that of Walter de Chelworth, and from him descend the 27 English families of Cox, coke, Coxe, etc., whose armorial devices show both kinship and difference.

Walter Cokkes, or LeCock, of Chelworth, lived in the County of Kent in 1250. During the reigns of Henry VIII, Mary and Elizabeth, members of the family were connected with the royal household.

In Hertfordshire no man of note in religious (Reformation) controversies was more widely known than Richard Cox, the famous Bishop of Ely, 1499-1581.

Of the same family was Sir Richard Cox, 1563-1623, who was buried in Westminster Abbey, third son of Thomas Cox, of County Hertford, Esq. In a later generation Sir Edmund Cox, of Broxwood, was one of the heroes at Poitiers, a devoted adherent of the King, who died of wounds received at the battle of Naseby, 1645.

Thomas Cox, Esq., was the ancestor in direct line of Charles Cocks, whose plain English name was superseded by that of Lord Somers, Baron of Eversham, on his elevation to the Peerage, 1784.

Daniel Cox, gent of Somerset, was father of Doctor Daniel, of London, born 1640, physician of Charles II and Queen Ann, the most eminent medical authority of his day. He acquired vast tracts of land in America, principally in New Jersey, through his influence with the Crown, and was proprietary Governor of the colony, although he never set foot in America."

THE COX FAMILY

"An article by Ruby Haskins Ellis, published in the Richmond, Va., 'News Leader' on Dec. 4, 1930, says:

"There are exactly 27 English families of the name of 'Cox'. There are other variations of spelling such as 'Cocks', 'Cokkes', and 'Coxe'. The first of the Cox family and the common ancestor of all branches, was one Walter de Chelworth, who was one of the followers of William the Conqueror in 1066. He established the family in Kent County, England, taking the name of 'Cokkes'.

A descendant, Walter Cokkes (or LeCock) was also a resident of Kent County, England.

Dr. Daniel Cox, of London, born in 1640, became an eminent physician and was the special attendant of Charles II and Queen Anne. It was through the influence with the Crown that Dr. Daniel Cox acquired immense tracts of land in America, mostly in New Jersey where he became proprietary governor."

(Copyright by Richmond, Va., News Leader, 1930.)

"One excellent book on the Cox family says that Walter de Chelworth, Norman-French soldier in the army of William the Conqueror, was of small stature but such a plucky fighter he reminded his comrades of a game cock, so they nick-named him Walter 'le Coq', which is French for 'the Cock'. The nickname stuck so he became 'Walter the Cock' and his children 'little Cocks', which in time became Cox.

All branches of the Cox Family, wherever you find them, are of English origin."

“John Cox of Bloomsbury, N. J., was member of the Committee of Observation and major of the 2nd battalion of Associators in 1775. He was in the battles of Trenton and Princeton and later was assistant quartermaster of Major Greene. Married Esther Bowes. Had daughter, Rachel.”

Vol. 48—page 286.

“James Cox (1753-1810) commanded a company of militia at the battles of Germantown and Monmouth. He rose to the rank of brigadier general. He was born and died in Monmouth County, N. J. Married Ann Borden Potts.”

We find different branches of the Cox Family in England settled in America prior to the Revolutionary War. One branch located in Maine, another in Massachusetts, one in the state of New York. Three brothers arrived together in Virginia, while the branch that settled in New Jersey about 1665 is the one from which this genealogy is compiled.

Members of the Cox family may now be found in every state in the Union.

“William Cox served in legion commanded by Col. Henry Lee,

John Cox, born in Monmouth County, New Jersey (1797), was the son of William Cox and a direct descendant of Thomas Cox, who settled there in 1667.

The above John Cox was married four times. His first wife, Rachel Hackney, whom he married in New Castle County, Delaware, in 1821, died the following year leaving an infant son, John—born Oct. 2, 1822.

(This son became the founder of the Cox family in Fayette County, Illinois, some twenty-five years later.)

Early in the year 1823 John Cox married his second wife, a "widow Cox", who had two sons—Tom and Jefferson. Her first husband was probably a relative. The family moved to the state of Ohio and two more sons were born—William and Emanuel. Those were pioneer days and families were constantly moving west. About the year 1842, John Cox and his family removed to the state of Kentucky and three years later they were definitely settled in "Pope Township", Fayette County, Illinois.

In the year 1854 John Cox, accompanied by his son William, joined a company going to California in search of gold. The father returned home in 1858, leaving William in California—who was later drowned while on his way from San Francisco to the Territory of Washington. In the meantime the other son, Emanuel, was prospecting for gold in the mountains near San Bernardino, California. He never returned to Illinois but lived a bachelor—never very successful—but contented. He died, aged about 75 years, near the mountains he loved so well.

The step-brothers, Tom and Jefferson, married and never left Fayette County. Their mother died, and John Cox married a third time—a Miss Lee—and their children were Malinda (who married a Mandell) and Zachariah.

John Cox was an old man when his third wife died. He batched and visited around among his married children, and finally married for the fourth time. But according to tradition they were not congenial and separated before he died, aged about 81 years.

For records of descendants of the step-brothers, Tom and Jefferson, see page 78. For Zachariah Cox see page 77.

(In the early histories of Illinois we read that a "Henry Cox" lived with his family in a block house on Shoal Creek in Bond County, seven miles from Greenville. On June 2, 1811, he was working in the field with his son when the boy was captured and murdered by Indians. A daughter, too, was captured but she managed to escape and returned home badly wounded.

It is believed—but not proven—that this Henry Cox was an uncle of the above John Cox, and his descendants drifted into Fayette County and settled.

"A BIT OF HISTORY"

"In the spring of 1854, about the first of May, as well as I remember, my father and brother William left Illinois for California with a man by the name of 'Decker', who had just returned from California and bought up a large drove of cattle to take back with him. I think father paid $50.00 each for his and my brother's passage, beside helping with the cattle.

I had several letters from my brother after coming to this part of the state, but never got to see him, or father, after leaving them near St. Louis in 1854.

In the latter part of February, 1862, my brother left San Francisco for Washington, then a territory, and—being a Freemason—made the acquaintance of a brother Mason on the way up who got off the schooner the day before she capsized, and seeing the account in the paper, knew my brother was lost and wrote to father, who had returned to Illinois in 1858, telling him of the loss.

In February, 1864, I received a letter from home with the Mason's letter enclosed, which was the first I knew of the matter, when I penned the following lines:

"He left his home in search of gold,
Far o'er a desert wide,
And lost his life, as we were told,
In the ocean's foaming tide.
From San Francisco he set sail
In the month of February.
The wind did blow a pleasant gale,
And all on board were merry.
In a vessel called the 'Tolo',
As she was northward bound,
With a light, assorted cargo,
Destined to Puget Sound.
On the night of February 24th,
While sailing up the Sound.
A gale of wind capsized the boat
And all but three were drowned.
Our brother met his fate
While sleeping in his berth,
And though horrid to relate,
Sleeps beneath the briney serf!
All honor to Freemasons
For their kindness to others,
In revealing this information
Of the loss of our brother."

“VETERAN PHYSICIANS HONORED AT BANQUET”

“Two Marion County physicians who have practiced medicine for more than 50 years were honored by the County and State Medical Societies last night at the Langenfeld Hotel.

The physicians, Dr. W. D. Richardson of Centralia, and Dr. W. W. Murfin, of Patoka, were honored guests at a banquet and were then presented with gold pins, emblematic of their long service.

The presentation followed an address by Dr. I. H. Nice of Decatur, a representative of the Illinois Medical Society. After paying tribute to the records of the two physicians, Dr. Nice declared that during the past century the medical profession had done more for the human race than was ever before accomplished. He pointed out that the large measure of a doctor's reward was the knowledge that he was serving society for humanitarian purposes.

Dr. Nice was introduced by Dr. J. P. Kissel, president of the Marion County Society, who was the toastmaster.

Both Dr. Richardson and Dr. Murfin recounted many of their early experiences as practicing physicians and described some of the handicaps under which early day doctors worked.

Testimonials were given by several other doctors and guests before the honored guests were presented with bouquets of roses.

Dr. Walter Murfin of Decatur, a son of Dr. W. W. Murfin, gave a brief explanation of the program outlined by the State Medical Committee for maternal welfare. His remarks were augmented by Dr. Williamson, representing the same committee.”

Obituary of William Cox

William Cox, son of John and Nancy Cox, was born in Pope Township, Fayette County, Ill., Dec. 12, 1849, and departed this life May 7, 1933, aged 83 years, 4 months and 26 days. His entire life was spent in Pope Township. He was a man of honesty and integrity and always stood for the principles which he considered right. When a young man he was converted and joined the M. E. Church at Mound Chapel, and in later years of his life expressed himself as willing to go. He was united in marriage to Elizabeth Bright, March 10, 1872, and to this union nine children were born, all of whom survive: Minnie Stilley of Waukesha, Wisconsin; John Henry, Virgil and George Cox and Josie Jackson of Rialto, California; Millie Jimmerson of Boulder, Ill.; Pherbe Fistus, Ida Smith and Rollin Cox of Patoka, Ill.

He leaves to mourn their loss his devoted wife who tenderly cared for him during the three years of his affliction, the nine children above named, thirty-one grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren. Also one sister, Mrs. Fanny Chandler of Patoka; three half-brothers and two step-brothers, and many other relatives and friends. Burial was in Pratt Cemetery.

Obituary of Elizabeth Bright

Elizabeth Simpson Bright, daughter of William T. and Polly Bright, was born Jan. 1, 1854, near Boulder, Ill. Departed this life June 15, 1941, at her home in Mound Chapel neighborhood, at the age of 87 years, 5 months and 14 days.

On March 10, 1872, she was married to William Cox of Patoka, Ill. To this union nine children were born, four sons and five daughters, all living except one daughter, Mrs. Minnie Stilley, who passed away Nov. 7, 1937. On May 7, 1933, her husband was called from her side and "Aunt Liz" as she was familiarly known by her friends and neighbors alike, was left to face the sunset of life alone.

About 60 years ago she was converted, accepting Christ as her Savior, and later joined the Northern Methodist Church at Mound Chapel. She was active in both church and Sunday-school work and when physically able to do so, was usually found in her place ready to do her part in service for her Lord.

She leaves to mourn her passing the following named children: John Henry, Virgil, George, Rollin, and Mrs. Josie Jackson, all living in California. Also Mrs. Pherbe Fistus, Mrs. Millie Jimmerson, and Mrs. Ida Smith of Patoka, Ill. The last named daughter has lived with her mother during the past few years of her life, administering to her needs and sharing her joys and sorrow when she so much needed companionship.

There are 32 living grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren, also a host of nieces and nephews and other more distant relatives. For a number of years "Aunt Liz" had been in failing health and she seemed to realize that the sands of Time were running low, and that the end was near, for recently she said to a daughter that she was ready and waiting for the final summons.

Early on Sunday morning the messenger came and the tired body sank to rest while the spirit took its flight to God who gave it. Funeral services were held Tuesday, June 17, at the Mound Chapel Church. Burial in Pratt Cemetery.

John Messenger was married when only 20 years old to his first cousin, Ida Amelia Kiefhaber, at Belleville, Ill.

Six children were born. The first two died at birth, and a little son died aged three. The marriage was unhappy. There was much family interference because of the close relationship and after fifteen years John Messenger and his cousin were divorced.

When he and his second wife, Martha Cox, met such a sudden tragic death from accidental milk-sick poisoning at the Mound Farm, the first wife, Ida Amelia Messenger, requested grandfather Cox to allow her the custody of the little girl, Estelle. Several years later when her other three children had died before reaching maturity, she became the guardian of Charley also, and she reared the two children in her home near Belleville.

Charley Messenger married his first cousin, Maud Messenger, Nov. 18, 1910. No children. Settled at Des Moines, Iowa.

Estelle Messenger married Frederick Charles Harrington and settled in St. Louis, Mo.

Frederick Charles Harrington was born Dec. 26, 1878, at Watervliet, Albany County, N. Y., the son of John Elmer Harrington and his wife Mary Jane Dunn.

He is a direct descendant of John Harrington who, with his four brothers, stood shoulder to shoulder in the Battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775—the morning following the famous ride of Paul Revere.

The Harringtons have been in America just 300 years—the first one, Robert Harrington, arrived from England and settled at Wattertown, Mass., in the year 1642. He served as selectman for 15 years.

Eleven of his grandsons participated in the Battle of Lexington. Two were killed, and the others continued to serve through the Revolutionary War.

(See "The Harrington Family in America")

Like the Cox and Farmer families, different members of the Harrington family have scattered until now they may be found in every state in the Union.

WEDDING BELLS RING

"The dawn of June 8, 1941, brought forth a great day in the lives of Fred Taylor Russell of Puente, and Lois Lucille Chambers of San Bernardino, for at 8:20 a. m. on that day this young couple were joined in holy matrimony at the Methodist Church in Las Vegas, Nevada, by the Reverend Ford J. Gillius.

Fred is a graduate of Puente Union High School where he was active in student executive affairs and athletics. He attended the University of Southern California for three years, majoring in Journalism. He is at present employed by the California Real Estate Association as Assistant Editor of the California Real Estate Magazine, monthly publication of this organization.

Lois is a graduate of San Bernardino High School.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover T. Russell of Puente; the bride the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Chambers of San Bernardino. They listed their ages as being 21 and 18.

Accompanying them on their matrimonial adventure were Leland DeMent of Puente, who acted as best man, and Mrs. Betty Uptain of San Bernardino, sister of the bride, who served as bridesmaid. Following the ceremony, the group visited famous Boulder Dam.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell plan to reside in Los Angeles previous to their purchase of a new home in the Bella Vista-Montebello area. A honeymoon is being planned for Lake Tahoe later in the summer.

* * * *

And thus another young couple have started out in the great adventure of life together. And this particular couple hopes that all its friends will come some time to visit them in their new-found happiness.

Sincerely,

Fred and Lois."

OBITUARY

Lucinda Cox Leininger

Lucinda Cox, daughter of John and Nancy Cox, was born April 1, 1859, departed this life July 14, 1928, at her home in Vernon, Ill., aged 69 years, 3 months and 13 days.

On Dec. 25, 1884, she was united in marriage to Frederick Leininger of Vernon, Ill. To this union five children were born, two of whom, Nellie and an infant son, preceded her to the great beyond. Those living are: Mrs. Della Hanson of Ocone, and Edna and Lewis of Vernon.

She was one of a family of fifteen children, having nine brothers and sisters, six of whom have gone on before: Irve, Henry, Aaron, Mrs. Rachel Bright, Mrs. Lizzie Balance and Mrs. Martha Messenger have preceded her in death.

There are also four half-brothers and one half-sister. Of this number, one, Emanuel, of California, has passed on to his reward. Early in life she professed faith in Christ as her Savior and united with the Methodist Church at Mound Chapel.

She was a devoted wife, a loving mother and kind neighbor and friend and will be sadly missed in the home circle of which she has been the center. She leaves to mourn her passing her husband, frail in health and standing in the very sunset of life: their three children, Edna, Della and Lewis, one step-daughter, Mrs. Josie Davis of Bloomington, and one half-sister, Mrs. Gertie Jarrett of Patoka; two brothers, William of Patoka and Harve of California; three half-brothers, T. T. Cox of Patoka, and Cullus and Emmett of California; three step-brothers, Monroe, Ras and Henry Hopkins; two grandchildren and many distant relatives and friends.

When mother is called away it always seems that the light of the home has gone out, her smile of welcome, her words of cheer which always greeted her loved ones on their return to the old home.

How she will be missed, but just across the river a little further on, mother is still waiting and watching for the loved ones in that home which will abide throughout eternity.

The funeral service was held from the M. E. Church in Vernon on Sunday evening, the Rev. J. M. Smith conducting the service and burial was made in the Vernon or better known as Tillman Cemetery.

OBITUARY

Mr. Frederic Leininger

Frederic Leininger was born in the State of Wisconsin, County of Washington, on the 20th of July, 1844, passed away at his home in Vernon, Illinois, June 5, 1935, at 11 a. m., after an illness of the past few years, at the age of 90 years, 11 months and 15 days.

At the age of 20 years he enlisted in the Civil War in Company F, 50th Regiment of Wisconsin. After the war was over he returned to his home in Wisconsin, and soon afterwards he came with his parents and settled on a farm about 3½ miles northeast of Vernon and remained with them until he was united in marriage to Mariah Epperson in the year 1871. To this union was born three children, two of them died in infancy, and Josie, a daughter, passed away in 1930 at Bloomington, Ill.

Mr. Leininger was again united in marriage to Lucinda Cox in 1884, a daughter of the late John Cox, who was at that time Sheriff of Fayette County. To this union were born five children, two sons and three daughters, Edna and Lewis at home, and Della of Decatur, the other son and daughter died in infancy. He also leaves two granddaughters, Dorothy and Martha Hanson of Decatur.

He had seven brothers and one sister whom have all crossed the great divide, some of them many years ago. Several nephews, Lewis, Fred and Francis of Patoka, and Vernon and others in the states of California, Wisconsin and other localities.

For many years Mr. Leininger lived on a farm 2½ miles southwest of Vernon where he reared his present children. In the year 1919 he moved to the home in Vernon where he passed away.

Mr. Leininger was a member of the Methodist Church and helped build the building in which the service was conducted. It was erected in the year 1881 under the supervision of Col. Sturgess of Civil War fame. Uncle Fred was an honorable man and will be greatly missed by the family and friends. The funeral service was conducted by Revs. Smith and Story Friday afternoon. Burial in Tillman cemetery.

Copied from a San Bernardino Newspaper, January 24, 1920:

"Aaron A. Cox Goes Gently to His Rest"

1860-1920

"Deceased was one of leading citrus men of California, making success of line. Widow, two daughters, five sons survive. Funeral services will be here on Monday."

San Bernardino has had more than her share of sadness in the past few weeks, as one by one many of her best loved sons have passed away, and last evening she was called upon again to mourn, when Aaron A. Cox of North Mt. Vernon Avenue, answered the last summons.

Mr. Cox went quietly to sleep at 7:15, having been unconscious for some days. He had been failing in health the past six months although only perceptibly since the first of the year, having taken to his bed on January 4th.

In the death of A. A. Cox, the community loses not only a citizen of the first rank, but a man of dominating, forceful personality, one of those men which any city can ill afford to lose.

He was a big-hearted man, full of resourceful energy, putting his whole strength into the work at hand.

Mr. Cox was 59 years old last September and had come to San Bernardino some 32 years ago from Colorado. He was born in Patoka, Ill., and married there, later going to Colorado, and finally drifting west. He was employed by a Citrus Fruit Grower when he first came to this community and so thoroughly did he absorb knowledge of orange orchards that he became an expert orchardist. Such an expert, in fact, that he could go through a given grove and estimate the number of boxes on the trees, and his ability in that line was regarded as nothing short of remarkable. He often bought run down orchards and made them wonderfully productive within a short time, for he knew all about irrigation and fertilizing.

Mr. Cox was president of the Rialto Orange Co., owner of the packing house there, and another on Base Line and I street, and of orchards at Rialto in the Mt. Vernon district at which place he had made his home for the past 16 years. He was also the owner of considerable other property and was worth something like a quarter million dollars. He was director of the Farmers' Exchange Bank and a member of the Woodmen of the World, Independent Order of Odd Fellows and of the Loyal Mystic Legion.

Sympathy of the many friends and acquaintances who had come to esteem Mr. Cox through personal and business relationships, will go out to the family today, to the home circle where the loss of husband and father is so keenly felt.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Rosa D. Cox, there survive: Two daughters, Mabel and Geraldine, and five sons, Harold, William L., Roy, Clifford and Donald, and a brother, J. H. Cox.

Interment will be in Mountain View Cemetery."

"Clifford Cox Falls Victim to Dog Bites—Young Man Was Ill
But Several Days Before Death"

"Bitten by a dog nearly three months ago, Clifford Cox, 27 years old and a member of one of the best known families of San Bernardino Valley, died shortly after 11 o'clock last night from rabies, at the home of his mother, Mrs. A. A. Cox, at Mt. Vernon Ave. and Base Line. Clifford did not become seriously ill until yesterday afternoon when the horrors of hydrophobia developed. For hours he suffered before death brought an end to his agony.

Four physicians were called. The illness beyond their skill they could do but little as the dread disease went its course.

It was not realized until last night that the dog, killed at the time, was suffering from rabies. It required the strength of four men to hold the rabies-stricken youth to his bed. Members of the family, suffering from grief, had been told that death must come.

Roy Cox, a brother, drove madly to Los Angeles to secure Pasteur treatment serum with which to inoculate his two little children, Harold D. Cox, himself, and two children of the neighborhood, all of whom were bitten nearly three months ago by the dog. The dog was killed but its head was not examined for the presence of rabies.

As the days went by and none of those bitten was stricken the incidents were forgotten until Clifford complained Tuesday and Wednesday of pains in his arm. A physician was called to the Cox home Thursday. Definite diagnosis of the disease was established yesterday but aid was impossible. Late yesterday Clifford suffered from convulsions which continued until death.

Clifford Bryan Cox was born in San Bernardino. He was graduated from the San Bernardino High School in the class of 1916. In the World War Clifford volunteered for service with Company K and was later transferred to the Fortieth Division with which he served 11 months in France. He attended the Oregon Agricultural College and was an expert in citrus fruit culture, being active in the operation of the A. A. Cox Estate. He was a member of the San Bernardino Lodge of Elks, and Arrowhead Parlor Native Sons.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. A. A. Cox; two sisters, Mabel L. Cox and Mrs. J. S. Willitts, Jr., of Auburn, California, and four brothers, Harold D. Cox, William L. Cox, Roy Cox and Donald A. Cox.

(San Bernardino Newspaper, April 9, 1935.)

"Mabel Lucile Cox died yesterday at her home, 2865 Pershing Avenue. She was 47 years old. She is survived by one adopted daughter, Miss Hazel Mae Cox; her mother, Mrs. Rosa Cox; four brothers, Harold D., William Lawrence, Roy and Donald Cox, all of San Bernardino, and one sister, Mrs. Geraldine Willitts of Auburn, California; 11 nieces and 3 nephews.

Scores of friends attended the funeral services from the J. W. Woodhouse Chapel. They were conducted by the Rev. Otis D. Ironmonger, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. W. J. McCarthy, accompanied at the piano by Frank T. Perkins, sang two selections.

Miss Cox's death followed an illness of several months."

(Mabel Lucile Cox was a graduate of Stanford University and taught in the San Bernardino schools for several years.)

"Death Claims Mrs. Rosa Cox After Stroke"

"Widow of A. A. Cox, pioneer in Valley Citrus Development, succumbs at age of 71.

Death last night took one of the San Bernardino Valley's beloved pioneer mothers, Mrs. Rosa Dunham Cox.

The widow of Aaron A. Cox, one of the early day developers of the valley's vast citrus fruit industry, she had resided in the valley since 1888, and was the mother of one of its prominent families, including four sons, who continued the development founded by the late Mr. Cox. She died at 6:25 p. m. at her home, 2865 Pershing Ave.

Mrs. Cox had been gravely ill since Monday when she suffered a stroke of paralysis which followed months of failing health.

Since last Monday she had been unconscious and her passing was not unexpected. All of her children, Harold D., Lawrence W., Roy and Donald A. Cox, and Mrs. Geraldine Willitts of Auburn, California, were at the bedside. A sister, Mrs. Lydia Walters of Independence, Kansas, 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive Mrs. Cox.

A grandchild, Mrs. Joseph Dick of Lyons, Kansas, formerly Miss Kathryn Cox, arrived in San Bernardino Friday. She was accompanied by her husband. Mrs. Rosa Dunham Cox was born in Lincoln, Ill., March 1st, 1866, and attended the public schools and the University of Lincoln. As a young woman she was married to Aaron A. Cox and within a few months they migrated westward, settling first in Colorado. A year later they pushed on into the West, coming to the San Bernardino Valley, where Mr. Cox, a farmer, entered the citrus industry. In later years he acquired unimproved acreage and planted orchards.

Originally the Cox's settled in the Highland district, but later they established a home in the Rialto section. In 1903 Mr. and Mrs. Cox with their family moved to a new home at Mt. Vernon and Base Line. Mr. Cox died in 1920. Although widely known, particularly among the earlier residents of the valley, Mrs. Cox devoted most of her life to her home and family. Her oldest child, Mabel, died two years ago and a son, Clifford, in 1923.

In recent years Mrs. Cox made comparatively frequent visits to her girlhood home and visited relatives in the East. Once she went to Europe, traveling extensively on the Continent.

Three months ago she made an automobile trip to Kansas with her granddaughter, Miss Phyllis Cox. In later years Mrs. Cox's once vigorous health failed but she remained active until stricken with the severe attack early in the week."

"Long Illness Takes Life of Fruit Grower"

"Member of City's Water Board Claimed at His Residence by Disease of Heart."

Roy Cox, prominent San Bernardino rancher and member of the City Board of Water Commissioners, died at his home early last night after a long illness.

Born in San Bernardino 46 years ago he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cox, pioneer residents. He succumbed at 7 p. m. to a heart ailment attributed to a leg wound suffered in the World War.

Mr. Cox, an orange grower for many years, and a water authority, was appointed to the Water Board in 1934 for a two-year term. In 1936 he was re-appointed by Mayor C. T. Johnson for the full term of six years. He was Secretary of the Mt. Vernon Water Company and a member of the Lytle Creek Water Conservation Board.

His death, followed by only two weeks his return to his 1306 Mt. Vernon Avenue home, after three months at San Bernardino Hospital. Educated in the public schools of San Bernardino, he attended the old San Bernardino Business College before going overseas with the 91st Division, A. E. F. He later lost a leg as the result of a wound received in France.

He was a member of the Native Sons of the Golden West, the Lion's Club, San Bernardino Lodge of Masons, Scottish Rite at Long Beach and the American Legion.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Florence Woodhouse Cox, and one daughter Beth, both of San Bernardino; two sons, Darrell of Rialto and Glenn of San Bernardino; three brothers, Harold, Lawrence and Donald Cox, and one sister, Mrs. J. S. Willitts, all of San Bernardino."

"Cox Families in Reunion to Honor Cousins"

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Cox welcomed members of the Cox family hereabouts for a happy reunion at their attractive residence, 3196 Arrowhead Avenue, Wednesday evening.

The gathering was planned in honor of cousins visiting here from St. Louis, Mo. The guests are Mrs. Frederick C. Harrington, her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Harold Jenkins and Susan Jenkins.

Thirty-four members of the family and their children joined in the festivities, which featured a chicken dinner served in colorfully arranged tables in the back yard. Pinochle was played afterward with Mrs. Jenkins and Glenn Cox winning the high prizes, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fogg claiming the second awards.

The family gathering was complete, with only one missing. She is Mrs. Joseph Dick (Kathryn Cox) who with her husband and two children is spending two months in Kansas.

Others enjoying the al fresco affair numbered: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cox, Mr. and Mrs. James Willitts, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fogg, Mr. and Mrs. James Perry (Rose Cox), Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meyer (Phyllis Cox), Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth K. Kelly (Dorothy Cox), Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Cox, of Rialto, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cox, Mrs. Roy Cox, Miss Ida Pearson, Miss Beth Cox, Miss Jean Cox, Glenn Cox, Roy A. (Pelky) Cox, Donna and Donald Cox, Patricia, Doris, Vera and Betty Willitts and Patricia Ann Kelly.

William Butler Chandler "Answers Last Call"

One week ago, little did we think that we would be called on to give our readers the death message of one of our most highly esteemed and respected citizens, our neighbor and our friend, but such is fate, and when the word went out Sunday that Uncle Bill Chandler, as most everyone knew him, was fast sinking, little did we realize that the end was so near. Stricken on Wednesday he gradually grew worse until the end came Monday evening.

There are now only a very few of the Grand Army men left. Of that organization Mr. Chandler was affiliated and his greatest interest seemed to be in any service connected with the Stars and Stripes, and he always looked forward to the time when he could march with this banner. Members of the Edgar Rogier Post acted as the funeral escort and served as pall bearers.

William Chandler was born in Stateville, Tenn., Feb. 15, 1844, died at his home in Patoka, Oct. 18, 1920.

He is the last of 13 children of John M. and Mary Ann Chandler. He came with his parents from Tennessee to Kentucky where his father died. He came with his mother and settled northeast of Patoka.

In the year 1862 he answered the call to serve his country and was a private of Capt. James H. Hudspeth, Co. K, 8th Reg., Ky. He volunteered on the 5th of August, 1862, served one year, and was discharged the 23rd day of September, 1863.

He was married to Miss Fanny Cox Jan. 6, 1887. To this union five children were born, the two boys, William Guy and John Hurshel died in infancy. He was converted in 1887 at Mound Chapel and lived a Christian life until God called him home. He was a devoted husband, a loving father, and a good neighbor. He had a host of true friends in Patoka and he will be missed by all.

The funeral was held from the Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, Rev. Etter officiating, assisted by Rev. J. M. Smith, and burial in the Patoka Cemetery. He leaves to mourn their loss a wife, three daughters, Mrs. Binnie Humes, Misses Rose and Helen Chandler; one nephew, Carson Chandler; two nieces, Mrs. Ethel Robb and Miss Rettie Chandler, the nieces of Decatur, the others of Patoka, a host of other relatives and friends.

Note: "Philip J. Mojonnier married Rose Chandler, daughter of Fanny M. Chandler, nee Cox, April 10, 1932, in her home in Patoka. He is president of Patoka First State Bank, Patoka Co-operative Elevator Company and Patoka Telephone Company.

He has been Worthy Patron of Victoria Chapter No. 253, O. E. S., of Illinois, seven years, and Worshipful Master of Patoka Lodge, A. F. & A. M., two terms, and held various offices in both fraternal organizations for 22 consecutive years.

He is a member of Patoka Baptist Church and served many years as Sunday School Superintendent, and 14 years as Church Treasurer, also taught Sunday School class several years.

Philip's parents died when he was eight years old and he has fought the battles of life ever since. His paternal grandfather, Frederick Mojonnier, immigrated from Canton Vaud, Switzerland, in the spring of 1850, and from the day he landed in America he was a true American, getting his naturalization papers as soon as possible.

It took 80 days to make the voyage from Switzerland to St. Louis. During the voyage a young Englishman died on the ship and Frederick Mojonnier asked the captain's permission to hold a religious service before the body was buried at sea. This privilege was granted and all on board were very reverent and took much interest in this service, and all passengers held him in high esteem the balance of the voyage. They landed in New Orleans and came up the Mississippi River on a tugboat. His maternal grandfather, Frederick Beguelin, came from Switzerland in 1856 with his family."

Obituary of Mrs. Fanny Chandler

Mrs. Fanny Chandler passed away at her home in Patoka Wednesday, December 18, 1940, at 11:15 a. m., aged 78 years, 8 months and 3 days.

Fanny M. Cox, daughter of John and Nancy Jane Farmer Cox, was born in Pope Township, Fayette County, April 15, 1862, where she spent her girlhood days. She lived her entire life in this community with the exception of eight years when she resided with her parents in Vandalia during her father's term of office as sheriff of Fayette County.

She was united in marriage January 6, 1887, to William B. Chandler and to this union five children were born, two sons preceding her in death. Her husband passed away twenty years ago.

She was converted when quite young and joined the Mound Chapel Church. She united with the Patoka Baptist Church in September, 1912. She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters, Binnie C. Humes of Centralia, Ill.; Helen Smith of Decatur, Ill., and Rose Mojonnier; two granddaughters, Mary Helen Humes of Centralia, and Evelyn Smith of Decatur; two step-grandchildren, Alice and Carroll Mojonnier; one step-brother, Monroe Hopkins of Patoka, and a host of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon from the Baptist Church by Rev. Walter Miller, and burial in Patoka Cemetery.

Those from out of town who attended the funeral of Fanny Chandler were: Mrs. Frederick C. Harrington, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Ethel Robb, Mrs. G. I. Garrett and Mrs. Joe McMahan, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Reed, of Brownstown; Mr. Will Humes and Miss Vonna Stein, of Centralia; Mrs. Elizabeth Stein, of Sandoval; Mrs. Agnes Hines, Lloyd Hines and Carl Hines, of Alma; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones of Vernon.

Descriptive Letters
On A Foreign Tour

The "News-Champion", Maplewood, Mo.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Frederick C. Harrington of 6935 Mitchell Ave., who is on a tour of England, Scotland, Holland, Germany, Italy and France, conducted by Rev. and Mrs. Arthur H. Armstrong.

Mrs. Harrington has many friends in Maplewood and promised before starting on this trip to send an occasional letter to the "News-Champion", describing interesting features of the trip.

Her first letter is as follows:

On Board the "Empress of Scotland"

Atlantic Ocean, July 3, 1928.

Dear Friends of Maplewood:

Enlisted with the Armstrong party for a foreign tour, we reached the historic city of Quebec Tuesday P. M. June 26, having picked up different members of our party at Detroit, Montreal and Toronto. We are a jolly group—numbering twenty—including five gentlemen (each accompanied by his wife), three college girls and the 21-year-old son of Dr. Armstrong.

At Quebec we stopped at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel which is built on a high bluff overlooking the St. Lawrence River. It was very interesting to be whisked up the steep, narrow streets, through a great arch into a courtyard paved with cobble stones, and every sort of conveyance lined up at the curb. The most unusual were the dozen or so old-fashioned high-wheeled, horse-drawn "Victorias", some with four wheels—some with two—and were driven by old gentlemen with white whiskers.

Quebec is one of the oldest cities in America and most foreign in appearance. There are 133,000 population, 90% being French Canadian. There are 48 Catholic churches, 7 Protestant churches and 1 synagogue. The narrow streets wind around, up and down steep hills. One cannot help holding his breath and thinking what would happen if the brakes did not hold. As a matter of fact there are many horsedrawn vehicles in evidence.

Our party took a sight-seeing bus and drove all over the city. The houses are built right on the street with spiral staircases built on the outside to the second and third stories. Many of the houses are over a hundred years old, and there are many historic monuments. The only thing at all familiar looking was a Woolworth 5 and 10 cent store.

After a tour of the city we were taken out about 20 miles along the river to St. Anne de Beaupre. This is one of the oldest missions in the country, famed for its faith and healing.

This interesting drive was along the foot of the bluff, the road winding around curves under an arch of trees, up and down the hills, past hedges of blooming lilacs and patches of wild strawberries. We passed through village after village, each with its Catholic church, each tiny home with its display in the front yard of handsome quilts and gay, fancy rugs for sale. Each home, too, had its supply of cut stove wood piled under the front porch or at the side of the house.

We stopped to inspect "Kent House" which was the home of the father of Queen Victoria during his residence in Canada. This is kept in perfect repair and protected by uniformed guards, day and night.

Our party went on board the "Empress of Scotland" Wednesday noon, June 27, in time for luncheon, but did not sail until 5:30 P. M. Those hours were filled with excitement and confusion, the delivery of telegrams and steamer letters, boxes and baskets of wonderful flowers.

I will hastily outline the program of the day: A hot salt-water bath in the early morning and a walk eight times around the deck—which makes a mile. Breakfast in the beautiful dining room, decorated with a profusion of flowers. A couple of hours on deck in a steamer chair—wrapped in a rug—with an interesting magazine. After luncheon, a game of Bridge in the Lounge, or participating in the various games on deck. There is also an attractive Swimming Pool. Everyone dresses for dinner—8 P. M.—and this is followed by a dance in the ball room.

Nothing of special interest occurred until Friday morning we ran into a dense fog, so dense the steamer was obliged to stand still for four hours—much of the time the fog horn blowing a blast every sixty seconds. We were in the Strait of Belle Isle. About 5 P. M. we passed out into the ocean proper and were inspired with awe at the sight of an iceberg. It appeared to be about 150 feet above water and said to be only one-sixth visible.

Sunday service was conducted by Dr. Armstrong. We land at Cherbourg tomorrow, where the mail will be taken off and our party will proceed to Southampton, where we will take train for London.

Yours very sincerely,

Estelle M. Harrington.

The News-Champion:

My Dear Friends in Maplewood:

We have been in Great Britain ten days and we seem to have been dropped into a different world—everything appears so strange and the customs are so different.

The first thing in London to attract the attention of a visitor is the sight of the chimney-pots on every building. Each roof has from ten to fifteen chimney pots, while the larger buildings have from fifty to one hundred. While London is the largest city in the world, I have not seen any business building more than twelve stories high—the average around seven stories. The Bank of England is one story, covers four acres of ground and is lighted entirely by a skylight—no windows. Of course everything over here is very old; they have a wonderful historic background.

We have visited so many famous shrines—Windsor Castle, the Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, House of Parliament, the British Museum—and we have stood at the graves of Dickens, Thomas Gray, Tennyson, Queen Elizabeth, Mary Queen of Scots, and all the other kings and queens of England. We visited the churchyard where Gray wrote his “Elegy”, and we saw the original copy in the British Museum.

We stood on the spot where the wives of Henry VIII were executed and saw the ax and block in the Tower of London. I could tell much more of this, but perhaps some of you are not so interested in English history. Last Sunday morning, after seeing Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong safely off to church service, the rest of the party took a subway car and visited “Petticoat Lane”—said to be the slums of London. It was an interesting experience and we became separated in the mob and returned to the hotel in twos and threes before the Armstrong’s returned from church.

Monday we left London for a tour of the English Lake country, the Shakespeare country and through the Trossachs and Loch Lomond and Loch Katrine by boat in Scotland. We visited more castles in Edinburgh and Sterling and the scenery is indescribably beautiful. We would travel a hundred miles or so by train in an observation car, then fifty miles by bus, then back on a train, eating in the diner and putting up at some quaint hotel at night. They do not have bath rooms over here, and every hotel bedroom is embellished with a beautiful bowl and pitcher.

All traffic here goes to the left. Many bicycles are used, especially in the suburbs by both men and women. All the women and girls smoke cigarettes as casually as we chew an after-dinner mint. The twilight is very late here, and we positively do not light the lights until 10 P. M. I must not close my letter without mentioning the wonderful English gardens—a riot of color—every home has its garden. We cross the North Sea tonight and reach Amsterdam tomorrow morning.

Sincerely, Estelle M. Harrington.”

Editor News-Champion:

Dear Friends:

We have done some traveling since my last letter. We arrived in Holland on Sunday morning at half-past five o'clock, June 15, having crossed the North Sea at night. We went immediately to a waiting train for Amsterdam where we arrived at 9 A. M. having breakfast on the train.

As our train sped swiftly through this strange new country, with its wind-mills and canals and green fields, we saw hundreds of bicyclers, both men and women, pedaling along the highways.

We stopped at a comfortable hotel in Amsterdam where they actually had bath tubs. The city has a population of 700,000—15% being Jews. There are 348 canals which are enlivened by numerous barges and the different quarters of the town are connected by means of drawbridges. We had a motor trip around the city which was most interesting. Here we found our first sidewalk cafes under gay awnings. We were puzzled to find a notice in our bedrooms to leave the key on the hook outside the door when not occupying the room. But on entering a cathedral a large sign advised, 'Beware of Pickpockets'.

We stayed at our hotel in Amsterdam two days, going on Monday on an excursion in one of the pleasure boats out the canal, across the Zuiderzee to the Isle of Marken. This is the home of the poorer class of the Dutch, and here we found all the natives in their wooden shoes and picturesque costumes of their country. The place was crowded with souvenir shops and the women and children, and even the old men, insisted on posing for a photograph and holding out their hands for pennies.

Amsterdam is the commercial capital of Holland and has an excellent harbor. The diamond polishing mills are here, and the royal palace and art museum. Here are many of Rembrandt's pictures. Amsterdam was his native city.

Leaving Holland, our next stop was Cologne, Germany, where we spent one night and the next morning we went on board one of the luxurious river steamer for a sail 115 miles up the beautiful River Rhine. We had luncheon and dinner on the boat—and how we enjoyed the wonderful scenery, the legendary castles and the thousands of vineyards! It is easy to understand why the Germans love their wine. We stopped a few minutes at the famous town of 'Bingen-on-the-Rhine' to let off passengers.

Our visit to Heidelberg came next—to the University 500 years old—and the old castle now in ruins but surrounded by beautiful gardens.

Our next stop was Bale on the Rhine River at the intersection of Germany and Switzerland. One-half of the city is in one country and the other half is across the River in the other country. We were on the Switzerland side and had the most luxurious hotel. My room opened on to a gay balcony overhanging the Rhine River—containing a quaint wicker tea-table and chair.

But we tarried here only one night—then on to Luzern where we stayed two days. The hotels are crowded with American tourists and the displays in the shops are bewildering.

Leaving Luzerne we passed through some of the most beautiful scenery in Switzerland—over the Brunig Pass, and arrived at Interlaken where we have been three days. Here we have taken excursions to the Jungfrau and Truемmelbach Falls, which have given a wonderful view of the majestic snow-capped mountains and the picturesque Swiss cottages far below. We had the thrilling experience of witnessing a terrific thunderstorm high up in the mountains. The echo of the thunder sounded like a hundred storms in one.

My letter is getting lengthy and I must close. We leave here this afternoon and will be in Italy next week.

With best wishes to all,

Estelle M. Harrington.”

Armstrong Party Now in Rome, Italy

"News-Champion and Dear Friends in Maplewood:

My last letter was from Interlaken, Switzerland, and we have had many a thrill since then.

An hour's ride on the train took us to the little Swiss village of Meringen where we spent the night in a tiny hotel at the very foot of a high mountain—a restless waterfall dashing down the cavern directly in front of the hotel.

This was a very unimportant village but a starting point for the thrilling motor excursions by Charabanc to the Rhone Glacier over the Grimsel Pass.

We started on the trip very early in the morning in a government charabanc (motor bus) with a musical Alpine horn which re-echoed up and down the mountain as we climbed to the Rhone Glacier, one of the wonders of the Swiss Alps. The hotel where we had luncheon was perched like an eagle's nest on a mountain ledge, and was surrounded by snow. We walked through an artificial tunnel of solid ice underneath the Glacier.

From here we went by train to Zermat, a miniature village in the very heart of the Alps. Zermat is famous because it is located at the very base of the Matterhorn. This was a most awe-inspiring trip. The grandeur of the majestic mountains towering 7000 feet above us, the Rhone River dashing and foaming first on one side of our train then on the other. In the valley far below were the tiny villages clustered around a miniature church, and women working in the fields, while our train climbed higher and higher, and cascades dashing down the precipices and pounding against the huge rocks.

At Zermat we took an electric car for a side trip still further up the mountain to view the snow on the level where the dangerous climb of the Matterhorn begins. The sides of the mountains were beautiful with wild daisies, forget-me-nots, pink larkspur and thousands of tall, slender larch trees with their feathery leaves.

We had hot chocolate at the Gornergrat Hotel on the 'top of the world', then down again to Zermat. After two days in this delightful Swiss village we were back on the train again.

For two hours we traversed the wild mountains that had so fascinated us the past week, then suddenly we plunged into the famous Simplon Tunnel—thirteen miles long—the longest tunnel in the world—it took 22 minutes to pass through it—and we were in Italy!

Milan was our first stop, where we stayed over to visit the wonderful Cathedral and to view the famous painting, 'The Last Supper', by Leonardo de Vinci. This picture is painted on the wall of an old Convent and is gradually becoming faded. Milan is a prosperous city with a population of one million. Our hotel rooms had private baths and we were rather regretful to leave such luxury, but Venice was our next stop and we were soon on our way.

Arriving there, we were taken from the train to a waiting gondola and a very much withered old Venetian piloted us to the 'Hotel Royal Danieli', which was to be our home for the next three days. This captivating establishment had been a Palace four hundred years ago. The vast ceilings and broad staircases, the beautifully carved woodwork, the tapestries, the stained glass windows, and the endless display of statues and paintings were breathtaking.

In my immense bedroom, two-thirds of one side wall was a beautiful marble fireplace with an elaborate mirror above, reaching to the ceiling. It was somewhat disturbing to sleep in a silk-canopied bed with golden cupids aiming their arrows at one all night long.

It was exciting, too, to realize that we were really in the old romantic city of Shylock and Bassanio and Antonio. We visited the Rialto several times during our stay. This is a great covered Bridge crossing the Grand Canal and is the most important business center in Venice. There are shops of every description and an endless throng buying and selling from early morning until late at night. The Italians are very excitable and they gesticulate a lot when driving a bargain. It was very amusing to witness their activities.

The entire city of Venice is built on piles in a shallow Bay of the Adriatic Sea. One hundred and seventeen small islands are formed by more than 150 canals connected by 378 bridges built of stone. The canals, generally passable by small boats only, are separated from the houses by narrow paths. Among these houses extends a labyrinth of lanes paved with stones and alive with picturesque and busy throngs, irresistibly charming shops and sidewalk cafes.

We visited everything of historic importance and the famous glass factory. We were out in a gondola one night and listened to a light opera by native singers—by moonlight.

From Venice we traveled to Florence where we beheld the churches and Art Galleries. We stood beside the grave of Elizabeth Browning (where a group of American tourists from Boston had just placed a sheaf of roses). Then we came on to Rome where we have been three days and it has been just one grand thrill after another.

We have visited St. Peter's Cathedral, the largest in the world, the Vatican—the home of the Pope—the ruined Coliseum, the old Forum, the Catacombs. Here we had a friendly priest for a guide and each of us, with a lighted candle, followed him around the underground labyrinth to view the tombs of the early Christians.

I will not take time to tell of all the pictures, statues, and works of Art but we have certainly seen 'em.

It is very warm here and we go on to Naples tonight where it is still warmer.

With best wishes,

Estelle M. Harrington.

Armstrong Party Returning Home

"Montreux, Switzerland. Aug. 17, 1928.

Dear Friends in Maplewood:

My last letter was from Rome, and now I would like to write you about our most interesting trip to Southern Italy. From correspondence from friends at home we learned it was very warm in St. Louis, and I assure you we are not very cool in Italy. We arrived at Naples at midnight, in order to travel the coolest part of the day, and were up early the next morning for a motor trip to Pompeii. This was an hour and a half ride from Naples which is a city with a million population.

Our route was through the poorest section, or slums, and we were horrified at the dirt, poverty and degradation of the people. The streets were paved with cobble stones and were jammed with two-wheel carts drawn by small donkeys. The drivers were mostly small boys or old women with skraggly hair and bare feet. The carts were filled with miscellaneous objects—fruit, vegetables, hay, old rags or spaghetti—and, as there were no traffic regulations, our motor was frequently stopped until a balky donkey could be removed from our path.

There were no sidewalks, and the family laundry was being done on the street outside the front door. We saw two slovenly women leave their washboards for a fist fight, and children 4 and 5 years old ran naked in the street.

Just outside of Naples is a large coral factory, where we stopped for half an hour, and where we saw women and girls shaping and polishing coral beads, and men were cutting cameos of intricate designs. There was an imposing 'Show Room' and Sales Department and everything so reasonably priced that each member of our party provided himself with a worthwhile souvenir.

And then we came to Pompeii!

I wish I could describe the feeling of awe one has when walking through the ruins of this wonderful city—lost for 1700 years—buried by the fury of a volcano. Everywhere were evidences of fabulous wealth—marble pillars, mosaic floors, hand-painted walls, fountains and baths—and the suffering of the stricken city was portrayed by the position of skeletons of these happy people, trapped so suddenly that bright, sunny day two thousand years ago.

Evacuations are still being made and rich discoveries of gold and silver and priceless jewels.

After leaving Pompeii we went on by motor over the famous Amalfi Drive, which wound around the mountain, mounting higher and higher with each turn—and Mount Vesuvius, smoking, in full view. We had luncheon at the celebrated Hotel Cappuccini Convent where many important Americans have sojourned. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow spent a season here and wrote a beautiful poem on this fascinating retreat. A life-sized portrait of Longfellow hangs on the wall of the hotel lobby.

From Amalfi we motored on over the other side of the mountain, 30 miles beside the blue Mediterranean, then down gradually until we came to the little village of Sorrento—where we spent the night. We had dinner on the hotel veranda overlooking the beautiful Bay of Naples—Vesuvius still in view.

Seven of our party, with Dr. Armstrong, left Sorrento the next morning by boat to visit the 'Blue Grotto'.

This is a small inlet of the sea under a huge cave in the mountain, the opening into the cave so small only one boat can enter at one time, this being a small row boat holding only three persons, and it was necessary to lie flat in the boat when passing through the low entrance. Once inside the cave we seemed to be in Fairyland, the water a beautiful, indescribable blue, and the jagged walls and ceiling blue, reflected from the clear water. All had the appearance of being artificially lighted from the bottom of the sea by electric lights. Some 25 boats were inside this cave at one time, young Italian boys rowing and singing their native songs. Several college girls from the United States were swimming in colorful bathing suits. This was an experience never to be forgotten.

We stopped at the 'Isle of Capri' for luncheon and visited the little shops with their bewildering display of beads, then returned to Naples by boat where the other members of the party had gone by motor.

The next two days were passed on a hot, uncomfortable train traveling north to Genoa. Much of the way was beside the Mediterranean. We passed through 90 tunnels piercing the mountains. We passed through the city of Pisa and from the train had a good view of the 'Leaning Tower' which is 179 feet high and 14 feet out of plumb.

We spent only one night at Genoa. This is an important sea port with a million population, and I was interested to see a most imposing monument to Christopher Columbus in the Square directly in front of our hotel. Our next stop was at Nice, France, a celebrated winter resort 25 miles from Monte Carlo. We went by motor to visit this famous gambling establishment and, while it was very interesting and luxurious, it was the dull season and about only one-half the place was open. However, there was a feverish crowd of several hundred playing cards or surrounding the roulette wheels.

We had luncheon in the beautiful gardens here beside the Mediterranean. From Nice, we have traveled back to Montreux, Switzerland, where we are resting for two days in this beautiful quiet spot on the shore of Lake Geneva, before going on to Paris. Yesterday we visited the 'Castle of Chillon', made famous by Lord Byron's stirring poem, 'The Prisoner of Chillon'.

Our journey is nearing an end as we sail for the United States on August 25, after a full week in Paris. We expect to be on the move there every minute as there is so much to see. We will attend the Opera one night, and one day will be spent visiting the Battlefields. I will have to tell you about Paris when I return home, as this will probably be my last letter. Dr. Armstrong has the love and loyalty of our entire party. He has been most patient and kind under all circumstances—a charming conductor.

With best wishes,

Estelle M. Harrington."

NOTES FROM MY DIARY

August 18, 1928

Paris, France

We were called this morning at 4:30, breakfast at 5:00, and on the train for Paris at 6:00 o'clock. The trip was not unpleasant. The scenery was new and interesting, and the weather cool enough for a coat. We reached Paris at 2:30 P. M. and went to the Lutetia Hotel in the Latin Quarter. There were letters from home awaiting the entire party.

Sunday, August 19

Several of our number attended the "American Church" this morning. We went in a taxi (where four could ride for the price of one). A large American flag was floating over the entrance.

Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale University was in the pulpit—a courtesy guest. He is not an ordained minister, but oh—it was fine to hear his good American voice. He gave the beautiful sermon on "Love" (which was published two months later in the Good Housekeeping Magazine). The church was crowded and all the aisles filled with extra chairs. The congregation, of course, was made up mostly with tourists from the United States.

In the afternoon our entire party went with a guide, by motor bus, to visit Versailles—the palace of Louis XIV and other French kings—about twenty miles from Paris.

August 20th

This morning our party broke into different groups, each to occupy the time according to his own pleasure. We drove around the city in a taxi and did some shopping, and back to the hotel for lunch. The entire party attended the opera at night. We were thrilled with "Lohengrin" and the famous Paris Opera House.

August 21st

This morning we visited the Louvre. This was originally a palace, the home of the French kings, and it contains many of the most treasured art pieces in Europe, including "Venus De Milo" in sculpture and the celebrated picture "Mona Lisa."

In the afternoon we took a sight-seeing bus around Paris and made frequent stops at places of unusual interest. We were first taken through the Latin Quarter where the schools are located and where the art students mostly live. "Boulevard St. Michel" is the main artery of the Latin Quarter.

We stopped at the Pantheon and visited Notre Dame (the largest Catholic Church in France). Napoleon I was crowned Emperor here. We visited his magnificent tomb where his body was removed in 1843 some twenty years after his death. We stopped at the site of the old Bastille—the cruel prison before the Revolution—and where now is a very tall imposing monument of "Liberty".

We viewed the Luxemburg Gardens and were driven around the most important boulevards of Paris, then back to the hotel for dinner.

In the evening we attended the "Moulin Rouge," the most racy Music Hall in Paris. We witnessed a very modern and spectacular show, the most gorgeous stage setting, the most brilliant coloring of costumes and graceful dancing. And while much of it was startling (at the absence of attire of the chorus) the whole effect was beautiful and well worth seeing once in a life time. (Once is enough.)

August 22nd

This day was set aside for our excursion by motor bus to Rheims and the battle-fields. We were called at 5:45 and breakfast was served on a tray in our rooms—but the coffee was cold, the rolls stale, and nothing satisfactory to eat.

We left the hotel at 7 o'clock and stopped just outside Paris to view the aviation field where Charles Lindbergh landed that famous day in May just the year before. Search lights in tall towers guided him to a safe landing. Our way was through rural France, along beautiful avenues lined on either side with old forest trees whose long branches formed an arch overhead for miles.

The peasants in France do not live in scattered farm homes as in America, but are clustered together in small villages about five miles apart. They work the fields by day and back to the village and home at night. Each village had its little church and it was sad to see the ravages of war. It seemed the churches were targets for the German guns and none escaped their fury. In many instances entire villages were wiped out. After ten years much has been reconstructed, but the men and women of that district look old, broken and discouraged.

We passed through many villages where half the buildings were abandoned ruins, and we passed one cemetery after another—with their hundreds or thousands of white crosses—mute evidence of the tragedy and sacrifice of our boys in the World War.

We reached Rheims about 2 P. M., which is 110 miles from Paris. We had luncheon, then visited the famous Cathedral which was devastated by German bombs. It was sad indeed to see the destruction and heartless vandalism of this sacred historic monument. The outside was adorned with hundreds of beautiful statues of saints and angels, which now stand mutilated, many without heads or limbs, but they are gradually being repaired. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has donated $1,000,000 for the reconstruction of the church, and a new roof has been completed but the beautiful art glass windows have not been replaced. The priceless tapestries, fortunately, were saved and are now in safety vaults.

After a very late luncheon we went shopping and some of the gentlemen of the party visited "Mum's Winery," said to be the largest in the world. (Nuf said.) We returned to Paris by a different route, had supper at 9 o'clock along the way and reached our hotel sometime after midnight.

August 23rd

Another day to do as we pleased. Five of the gentlemen (with their wives) took an excursion to Deauville to witness the races. I was glad to spend the day resting after our previous strenuous trip to Rheims. But in the evening I joined a group of women at 9:30 for a taxi ride to see the lights of Paris at night.

We drove to the Eiffel Tower which was beautiful with its ever changing illumination of colored lights. After driving up and down the principal avenues: Rue De Saint Honore, Due De Castiglione, Rue De Rivolie, and Rue De L'Opera, we stopped at the Cafe Rue De Le Paix and had ice cream at a table on the sidewalk where we sat for half an hour watching the crowds, a very interesting experience. Returned to the hotel and to bed at 11:30.

August 25th

We left the Lutetia Hotel at 10:30 A. M. and were on the boat train for Cherbourg at 11, to sail in the afternoon on the "Empress of Scotland" for the United States of America. It was a grand and glorious feeling for the "Armstrong Party."

ESTELLE M. HARRINGTON.

AMERICA FOR ME

By

Henry Van Dyke

"Tis fine to see the Old World, and travel up and down
Among the famous palaces and cities of renown,
To admire the crumbly castles and the statues of the kings,—
But now I think I've had enough of antiquated things.

So it's home again, and home again, America for me!
My heart is turning home again, and there I long to be,
In the land of youth and freedom beyond the ocean bars,
Where the air is full of sunlight and the flag is full of stars.

Oh, London is a man's town, there's power in the air;
And Paris is a woman's town, with flowers in her hair;
And it's sweet to dream in Venice, and it's great to study Rome,
But when it comes to living, there is no place like home.

I like the German fir-woods, in green battalions drilled;
I like the gardens of Versailles with flashing fountains filled.
But, oh, to take your hand, my dear, and ramble for a day
In the friendly western woodland where Nature has her way!

I know that Europe's wonderful, yet something seems to lack;
The Past is too much with her, and the people looking back.
But the glory of the Present is to make the Future free,—
We love our land for what she is and what she used to be.

Oh, it's home again, and home again, America for me!
I want a ship that's westward bound to plough the rolling sea,
To the blessed Land of Room Enough beyond the ocean bars,
Where the air is full of sunlight and the flag is full of stars.
